Snow way!

Pst! One of the best-kept secrets in Alpine history is about to be revealed, so if you've just got back from skiing and fancy heading back again, think about Montgenève. Located in French Alps, close to the Italian border and about an hour from Turin airport, the ski village is currently undergoing an €80 million regeneration project that will see more than 50 new homes built in the area. Other improvements include high-tech snow cannons and new ski lifts, as well as the construction of a cinema, theatre and nursery.

Developer MGM is behind the project and is now selling brand new ski-in, ski-out apartments just five minutes' walk from the centre of the village. Le Chalet des Dolines will offer two- and three-bedroom apartments. They're currently being sold off-plan, with prices starting at €230,000, and will be ready for occupation by December next year.
